Services

Although Centralpoint is the most robust, market ready Digital Experience Platform in the industry, no solution is ever 100% ready out of the box. Your organization, markets, and projects are unique, and that means we will likely need to customize it around your needs. Often times this might mean only the UI or Design, other times, there may be more complex Integration or workflow. We have had the experience working on over 350 engagements over the past 20 years, and pride ourselves on a no nonsense approach to 'get it done'. Unlike most consultants, we do not prey on the amount of time things take, and can often work much faster than our clients can feed us their data, or instruction.

You can expect absolute professionalism from our staff. We are proud to offer a no nonsense, take charge attitude, without unnecessary paperwork, terminology or nonsense. Building your project is complex, and we bring leading industry experts to help you accomplish the task, starting with your Project Manager. This individual will manage your project from Kick Off to Launch, organizing each task in our Issue Management system, tracking every detail and providing a complete audit trail. Your project manager will work with the internal resources needed such as designers, database engineers, developers and (where applicable) network/server resources; acting as your central point of communication at all times. Our job is to gather the information we need, and get the job efficiently, taking up the least amount of time from your team.

After launch your Project Manager will continue to monitor your project's success, and update you with our Evergreen Updates, guaranteeing it will be just years from today as when it launched.
